

CAM GLOBAL MULTI-STRATEGY EQUITY FUND R (ZAR HEDGED)

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND POLICY

The CAM Global Multi-Strategy Equity Fund ('the fund') aims to provide investors with superior long term capital growth by investing predominantly in global equity markets. The aim is to allocate capital dynamically to a selection of different global equity strategies and explicitly manage the diversification to ensure no reliance on any single equity style or strategy.

To achieve the investment objective the fund follows a fund-of-funds approach and invests on a global basis with a number of portfolio managers, including collective investment schemes managed by the Citadel Group. By investing in a variety of equity strategies, the fund expects to reduce the risks inherent in an individual market, asset class, country or a single asset management group. Derivative instruments may also be used for the purpose of efficient portfolio management. The Manager seeks to enhance returns of the fund by implementing and varying USD/ZAR currency hedging based on the Manager's view of the relevant currency position ('dynamic hedging').

FUND COMMENTARY

Global financial markets delivered broadly positive returns in August despite renewed volatility late in the month, as investors weighed a hawkish tone from US Federal Reserve Chair Kevin Warsh at the Jackson Hole symposium against continued strength in company earnings. There was a sharp spike in oil prices linked to escalating Middle East conflict risk, including renewed fears around the Strait of Hormuz, which reignited inflation concerns into month-end. Emerging market assets outperformed, supported by commodity strength and a shift in global investor positioning away from US dollar-denominated assets. The S&P 500 Index gained 2.7% and the Nasdaq Composite rose 4.0%, while the MSCI World Index advanced 2.6% in US dollar terms. The MSCI Emerging Markets Index posted a strong 3.4% gain. US Treasuries recorded a modest positive return, with the Bloomberg US Treasury Index rising 0.3%.

Against this backdrop, the ZAR hedged share class of the CAM Global Multi-Strategy Equity Fund ('the fund') was up 4.2% for the month. The emerging markets equity exposure gained 5.7% (in US dollars) helped by significant moves in South Korea (+7.6%) and Taiwan (+10.6%). This was supported by a strong rebound in the fund's developed market, quality-based equity exposure which returned 4.4% for the month. The fund retains its style-neutral characteristics by actively blending a range of underlying funds that follow different investment styles.

The core scheme particulars of CAM Global Multi-Strategy Equity Limited are available free of charge from the manager. Should you so require, the application form and annual report will be provided to you free of charge. Any offering is made only pursuant to the relevant offering document, together with the current financial statements of the relevant fund, and the relevant subscription application forms, all of which must be read in their entirety together with the particulars of the fund as well as the “Schedule of Similarities and Differences” available on the website. Where this fund uses a custom benchmark, the custom benchmark is calculated by Citadel. Prior to investing, investors should seek independent legal and investment advice from suitably qualified and regulated advisors.

Where applicable, any benchmark hedged to a non-base currency is calculated by the manager. This calculation is based on WM/Reuters Closing Spot FX Benchmark (fixed daily at 4pm) and 1-month Forward Bid/Offer FX rates. These rates have become the accepted standard for the valuation of forward currency positions and calculation of currency-hedged funds. The FX Forward is assumed to roll every month based on the notional valuation as on the end-to-end forward date
