FUND COMMENTARY

Global equity markets retreated in October, as a sharp rotation out of technology and communication services weighed on major indices amid escalating Middle East conflict and renewed inflation concerns driven by surging energy prices. The S&P 500 Index fell 0.9%, and the Nasdaq Composite declined 5.3%, reflecting concentrated losses in large-cap technology names. The MSCI World Index was down 0.8% in US dollar terms. Emerging markets bore the brunt of the risk-off move, with the MSCI Emerging Markets Index falling 8.0%, pressured by the technology sell-off and a stronger US dollar. Against this backdrop, the CAM Global Equity Feeder Fund ('the fund') was down 8.3% for the month.

RISK WARNING

The risk and return profile of a fund illustrates the amount of risk undertaken by an investor in the hope of achieving a particular return on an investment. The generally accepted principle is that potential return rises with an increase in risk. The risk and return profile on the face of this document is based on the historical performance of the fund. In addition to the risk warnings included elsewhere in this document, it is important to note that there are many other risks associated with investing in collective investments. These can include but are not limited to the following: general market risks (such as general movements in interest rates; external factors [war, natural disasters and such like]; changes to the law and regulatory frameworks; governmental policy changes; global, regional or national economic developments), risks related to a specific security (like the possibility of a company's credit rating being downgraded); and loss in the purchasing power of an investment as a result of an increase in the price of consumer goods (known as inflationary risks).

This fund invests in foreign securities. There are potential material risks associated with investing in foreign securities. These include but are not limited to: potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risks, political and social instability, foreign exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks and potential limitations on the availability of market information, all of which may have an impact on fund performance. In addition, risks associated with investing in emerging markets (which are generally less mature than those in developed markets) include but are not limited to currency risks, the possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation or nationalisation of assets and the establishment of foreign exchange controls which may include the suspension of the ability to transfer currency from a given country.

DERIVATIVES

If this fund has exposure to derivatives, this fact and the level of exposure will be specified within this document. Where this fund invests in other funds which use derivatives, those underlying derivative exposures will not be contained in this document. Derivatives derive their value from the value of an underlying asset. Investing in derivatives involves risk because depending on how the derivative is structured, the fund's losses or gains may be unlimited. To prevent this, the fund's derivative positions must be "covered" at all times. This means that the fund must always hold the underlying asset on which the derivative is based, or have sufficient cash or "margin" to deliver if the fund's derivative positions move against it. If derivatives are used in this fund, the cash/cash equivalent shown in the asset allocation section includes the portion allocated to "margin" for covering derivative positions and such portion of cash/cash equivalent is therefore not available for use by the manager. Other asset classes shown in the asset allocation section represent the market value of those assets and must be read together with the derivative holdings disclosure. The use of derivatives in collective investment schemes is governed by regulation. Derivatives can be used only for efficiency in portfolio management, for increasing a fund's yield, or to protect the fund against losses if the value of the shares or instruments invested in, or the market, falls. They may not be used for speculating or for enhancing the return of the fund by using gearing. The most common derivatives are options (puts and calls) and futures.

ONGOING CHARGES AND TOTAL EXPENSE RATIO (TER)

The Ongoing Charges figure is calculated in accordance with the Committee of European Securities Regulators guidelines. The TER is a measure of the fund's assets that have been expended as payment for services rendered in the management of the fund, expressed as a percentage of the average daily value of the fund, calculated over a period of a financial year by the manager.

GENERAL DISCLOSURES

With respect to South African investors, this document is the minimum disclosure document required by Board Notice 92 of 2014 published by the Financial Sector Conduct Authority under the Collective Investment Schemes Control Act 45 of 2002. Collective investment schemes are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of participatory interests or the investment may go down as well as up. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance and may not be repeated. Collective investment schemes are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commission is available on request from the manager. Neither the manager,nor the company provides any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the return of the fund. The manager has the right to close the portfolio to new investors in order to manage it more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. Where any forecasts or commentary about the expected future performance of asset classes or the market in general are made in this document, please note that neither the manager, nor the company guarantee that such forecasts or predictions made in commentary will occur. Where this fund invests into other funds ("underlying funds"), delays in reporting by such underlying funds may impact on the accuracy of the asset allocation and country/sector allocation disclosures.

PERFORMANCE DISCLOSURES

The performance calculated and shown is that of the portfolio. Individual investor performances may differ as a result of initial fees (if applicable), the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. Where periods of longer than one year are used in calculating past performance, certain figures may be annualised. Annualisation is the conversion of a rate of any length of time into a rate that is reflected on an annual basis. All since-inception performance returns are calculated from the launch date of the portfolio.

CALCULATION OF THE NAV AND PRICE

The value of participatory interests is calculated on a NAV basis. The NAV is the total value of all assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any deductible expenses (which may include audit fees, brokerage, service fees, securities transfer tax and bank charges). Forward pricing is used. The price of participatory interests is calculated by dividing the NAV by the number of participatory interests in issue. The fund is available via certain custody platforms, who levy their own fees. Investors in this fund may thus be liable for an initial fee and/or annual service fee levied by the third party administrator that is not reflected in the initial charge (where applicable) or NAV calculation. Prices are made available on the CAM Global website (www.camglobal.gg) in accordance with the dealing frequency of the fund.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The core scheme particulars of the CAM Global Funds PCC Limited, as well as the supplemental particulars pertaining to the fund are available free of charge from the manager. Should you so require, the application form and annual report will be provided to you free of charge. Any offering is made only pursuant to the relevant offering document, together with the current financial statements of the relevant fund, and the relevant subscription application forms, all of which must be read in their entirety together with the core and supplemental particulars of the fund as well as the "Schedule of Similarities and Differences" available on the website. Prior to investing, investors should seek independent legal and investment advice from suitably qualified and regulated advisors.

Where applicable, any benchmark hedged to a non-base currency is calculated by the manager. This calculation is based on WM/Reuters Closing Spot FX Benchmark (fixed daily at 4pm) and 1-month Forward Bid/Offer FX rates. These rates have become the accepted standard for the valuation of forward currency positions and calculation of currency-hedged funds. The FX Forward is assumed to roll every month based on the notional valuation as on the end-to-end forward date.
